SIR EDWARD GREY POURES OIL UPON THE TROUBLED WATERS

Anglo-German Situation Now Assumes a More Peaceful Aspect.

SPEECH PRONOUNCED A GREAT EFFORT

Foreign Minister Handled the Question in a Masterly Manner.

London, Nov. 25.— Sir Edward Grey, secretary of state for foreign affairs, cleared the political atmosphere and cleared oil on turbulent waters of the Anglo-German dispute which occupied him an hour and a half in the House of Commons this afternoon. The Foreign secretary reviewed the whole subject of the British foreign secretary that Great Britain avowed to have the function of a world judge in the mobilization of her fleet to assist France, although no treaty required this. Great Britain, he said, must abandon that assumption before the two countries can live on a footing of equality such as Sir Edward Grey hopes for.

The Vossische Zeitung draws attention with satisfaction to the fact that Sir Edward Grey rejects any policy provocative to Germany.

Paris, Nov. 25.— The French press receives Sir Edward Grey's speech with satisfaction, but without enthusiasm. The Figaro declares the speech is at once sensible and courteous toward Germany. And somewhat affectionate towards France, but that above all it is lucid, exclusive and even violently English and none can be surprised, disappointed or disturbed that it is so.

A Through for Grey.

London, Nov. 25.— The Foreign secretary has dispelled, to a great extent the adverse criticism directed against him recently by the Radical section of the opposition supporters. The Daily News, representing this section, still complains that he is too conciliatory and not effusive enough in holding out the olive branch to Germany. But there is little in the editorial this morning about his unnecessary speech.

This announcement, together with Premier Asquith's frank speech, has much to avert Radical disquiet. On both sides the Conservative section of parliament, on the other hand, the speech is held up as a masterly effort worthy of a greater reason. It is held it will lead towards an English-German approach.

The Daily Mail says: "Sir Edward Grey's speech firmly established the pillars of the British foreign policy. We may earnestly hope that it will end the era of unrest and anxiety in Europe." The Daily Telegraph adds: "It is a good speech, but it may well be questioned whether any living man could have achieved it with an equal amount of sheer moral weight combined with diplomatic skill." The Morning Post agrees entirely with Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, that if similar circumstances occurred again, the foreign secretary would be bound to act the yard.

Paris, Nov. 25.— Crowded.

The House of Commons was crowded when Sir Edward Grey arrived. Many distinguished strangers from many countries were among them, a number of foreign diplomats. At the outset, Sir Edward told the House he had been unable to attend the opening of the negotiations which had taken place between the German ambassador and the British ambassador, but he was surprised to discover that it was most unusual to make public any such conversations as those conducted in secret.

He said he had kept nothing whatever of Herr von Kiderlin-Wachter's intention until he read the publication of the speech, and was very much annoyed by it.

The German ambassador was not in a position to impugn any information given by Sir Edward, but he deprecated the assumption or possible damage to British interests and said he was sure that his government had no intention of attacking commercial monopolies.

Wenceslaus. Sir Edward Grey pointed out to Count Wattenberg that in the event of the negotiations with France failing, Great Britain would be obliged to take steps in order to protect its own interests.

How the Nations View What The Foreign Minister Said

Berlin, Nov. 25.—Sir Edward Grey's speech was read, with the greatest interest in Berlin in the newspaper extra. The discussion in the Berlin morning papers indicates that they are neither greatly pleased nor greatly disappointed. It is generally admitted that the speech was in a calm objective tone, in an obvious attempt to avoid any appearance of partiality. The Foreign Office of the British foreign secretary that Great Britain avowed to have the function of a world judge in the mobilization of her fleet to assist France, although no treaty required this. Great Britain, the Tageblatt, must abandon that assumption before the two countries can live on a footing of equality such as Sir Edward Grey hopes for.

ANSKED DISMISSAL OF LLOYD GEORGE.

London, Nov. 27.—The Pall Mall Gazette reports explicitly what has now become common rumour that Germany demanded the dismissal of Lloyd George, the British prime minister, his famous speech, as she did the dismissal of Delcassé in 1908.

The paper adds that the foreign secretary absolutely declined to consider such a suggestion, and that he has been told that Germany stayed her hand from war at the last moment through the influence of the financiers.

REGINA IS FILLED WITH DETECTIVES

Are In Search of Clues To The Disappearance of Money From Office of Canadian Auditor General.

Romania, Nov. 27.—There are almost a dozen inquiries about the disappearance of the money from the Canadian Auditor General's office. The Daily News states that the amount is nearly forty thousand dollars.

Romania, Nov. 27.—There are almost a dozen inquiries about the disappearance of the money from the Canadian Auditor General's office. The Daily News states that the amount is nearly forty thousand dollars.

The latest clue is the knowledge that the auditor general is the man who has been following the tracks in front of the department where the express office is located.

The auditor general is the man who has known the ground thoroughly and the route of the office, as the thief had to know it well, except for except for an instant when one of them turned his back and one of them went away.

DEBATE EXPOSES THEIR WEAKNESS

W. B. Northrup, East Hastings, accused the House of "wasting time. Not a single ordinary bill of good has been done," he charged. Sir Wilfrid Laurier with having introduced a bill in 1897 which was the solution of 1899 in his amendment to the adhesion bill.

Mr. German, of Welland, followed Mr. Northrup, first, of all thanking the Committee for its work in getting him in Welland. At the same time he wanted it understood that he was still in favour of the bill. "I have had enough bad habits without becoming a Conservative," Mr. German said, plain as having said that in 1897 it was necessary to have holes in the British flag to give it more room for liberty. Mr. Blondin rose to explain that he had already declared his support of the bill. "I am not a Conservative," said Mr. German: "Yes, some of them." Mr. German invited Mr. Blondin to deny having supported the Conservatives. He denounced Nationalism as unnatural and warped, and said that the party that supported it which had little power in politics would stand for the Nationalists. Mr. German declared, as though he were addressing the people of Toronto had provided the funds for the anti-reciprocity campaign and that the Liberals had been beaten by minister of finance because they would not have Mr. Foster appointed.

John Webster, of Brockville, who defeated the ex-minister of railways in the election, said that he had not yet attempted to "address an audience of public men and I have been told that I have not been displayed on the floor of this House."

Speaker Reprimands.

Speaker泗rouffe advised the Brockville member that this remark was not good form and asked him to withdraw it, explaining that it was only his opinion. The member for Brockville, particularly the member of railways, and concluded that Mr. Graham knew as much about building a million miles of steel as the G.T.R. could only do with three million as he did. (Mr. Webster) knew about building a railroad to heaven.

"During the election I heard a lot about what we had to do to follow the old rock. If they are such dead game sports they should prove themselves good losers," said Webster.

A. Turgeon, of Gloucester, N.B., addressed his remarks mainly to Mr. B. H. Bowes, Minister of Marine and Fisheries. They dealt with the conditions in Newfoundland, particularly the decet of reciprocity. He said to the fishermen of Gloucester that the majority of them had been here in the past and would be in the future probably their only market. Owing to the fact that the Newfoundlanders would have to go on paying American duties on fish, Mr. Turgeon said it was time to turn to the market of the home port for Canadian fish. To attempt to depend on the market of the United States for industry had recently carried him that within a few years the production of Newfoundland trout and Nova Scotia would have passed. The American market was almost the only market for the salmon industry of New Brunswick as it was bound to become to the agricultural interests of western Canada.

Wm. G. Weichel, of Mackenzieburg in North Waterloo, gave a short, brief speech in which he re-edited the sentiments of W. H. Northrup, John G. Webster, and others of the House, he said was amusing to a newcomer. Mr. Weichel quoted statistics to show that reciprocity had not prospered the rural districts "Weber, Watson, said, and the like." The North American policy which the Liberals had the good sense to keep when they came into power.

W. A. Buchanan speaks.

His speech, which was made by W. A. Buchanan of Lethbridge, it was his maiden effort. Mr. Buchanan took exception to the remarks made by the various members between the east and west. The west was anxious for access not only to the markets of the east, but also to other markets. He wanted to sell all we can in Great Britain and to Canada, we may have other markets, as well," he said.

Considered in Its Merit.

Mr. Northrup had the view that it was in the West only that reciprocity had been considered on its merits. It is not without mixtures with racial and religious questions in the other provinces, the people would not be enjoying the benefits of post-

WILL MOVE AND SECOND THE REPLY

The address in reply to the speech of Mr. Northrup was as follows: The Legislature which opens on Thursday will be moved by J. L. Cote, Abrahams and seconded by Dr. Campbell, Puska.

We Ask the Women

The women are the buyers. So, if more families are to know how good Blue Ribbon tea is, we must ask the women to get it. Remember, it has better flavor—it makes more tea—it is richer and stronger than other tea. It is the most economical tea you can buy and if you are not fully satisfied you can take back the packet and have your money refunded.

IN THE REALM OF WOMAN BY PENELOPE

MARRIED.

McMahon — Kelly.

Two pretty young marriages were solemnized yesterday at St. Cecilia's Church, when Miss Rose M. Kelly became the bride of Mr. F. C. McMahon, and Mrs. Amy Fletcher came the bride of Mr. G. Edmund Kelly. Miss R. Kelly, who was dressed in a simple grey travois suit and a flowing bower hat trimmed with a wavy lace border, was given away by Mr. A. Fletcher at the wedding breakfast. Mr. and Mrs. McMahon left early in the afternoon for a prolonged trip to the country. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly left this morning for a trip to Banff.

Mrs. Caulley. Belton Lodge, will receive this afternoon, her guest, Mrs. McNaughton.

On Monday afternoon Mr. H. H. Cooper invited the girls in to call on tea in her bungalow. The hostess was most attractive in all graceful ways, and added a special touch of green. Everywhere in this cozy bungalow a wealth of yellow geraniums adorned their splendor.

The tea table was unique in its prettiness. Small vases containing centerpiece were quantities of crimson carnations, contrasting effectively with the green.

Herr Mrs. Allan Fraser and Mrs. Hajnes. shared the honors. Mrs. Hajnes was dressed in a boyish, yet pretty, blue dress. Her daughter, Helen, assisted in passing the refreshments.

The Mission Circle of the McDonald Memorial Church held a crusade in the Saturday evening parsonage. A number of new members were present. The securing of additional members was the object of the meeting. The "girls" took their fancy work. Those who contributed to the success of the meeting were with a charming solo; Miss Blayney and Mrs. Carlyle, a duet; Miss Butchart, a solo; and Miss Culver, piano solo. Miss Culver gave two very interesting readings. Tea and refreshments were served and a photo-

"The Water of Eternal Youth."

(From Home Queen) The beauties of the Austrian court used a lotion which was so effective in keeping away wrinkles that it removed wrinkles even in the aged, that names it. If the "water of eternal youth" is real.

Some one has recently divulged the secret of this wonderful, though expensive, lotion. It is a perfume, which, in her gratitude she has similarly dubbed as a preserver of youth; or once you get it, you never dare use a hair pin, of which hazard—that's all there is to it. Any woman can get it, for it is a perfume, but don't put them together, and use the solution with entire safety, for believe me, the lotion will immediately remove even in case of the deepest wrinkles and furrows. This is also effective for hanging cheeks and double chin.

Stops a Cough Quickly —Even Whooping Cough

Sixty Ounces of the Oldest, Sweetest
Cough Remedy If It fails

If you have an obstinate, deep-seated cough which refuses to be cured, get a large quantity of this old fashioned made sugar syrup and start taking it. In a few days you will be well again, or very nearly so. Even whooping cough is quickly conquered in this way. Mix a spoonful of the syrup with a spoonful of made sugar syrup, gives you a delicious taste. This is a safe and effective cough remedy that money could buy, at a small cost. It is a safe and reliable medicine in packages that you can keep in your pocket.

ENTERTAINMENTS

"BABY MINE."

The popularity of the audience at the Empire Theatre was quite evident when the advance notice of the fake "Baby Mine" claims for its sensational program. There may however, be little objection regarding the quality of the fun. The fun is a little bit of fun.

To Change Your Face

(From Fashion Review.)

The painful, dangerous and expensive process of "face-lifting" is not necessary to accomplish the results sought. One can gradually improve the appearance of the face by beautiful culture from the face with pain—dancer of detection, i.e., the use of a mirror, the use of a wash cloth, which can be obtained at any drug store. Apply it for a few minutes each day, and each day the skin will visibly improve. The "miracle" in the wash cloth is the half-dead water which is used to soak the cloth before it is used on the particles. The first few days the skin underneath soon becomes soft, smooth and elastic. After a few weeks you will notice much greater improvement of the process is not necessary to expect that your complexion improves rapidly.

Of course the removal of the surface skin is a natural result of the wash cloth, but it is not necessary to take with it all facial skin such as chaps, freckles, mole patches, liver spots, warts, pimples, etc. More difficult cases will require care for many sensitive women noted for their beautiful and lasting complexion.

such that the female beauty tends to bring upon her husband's desire for home life.

Mr. Summers as Jimmy, Alfred as Alf, and Mrs. Summers as Alice, roared with laughter during the whole evening's comic expression and general air about the stage.

Long as Jimmy's wife and Nelly, Long as Jimmy's wife were two plotting females who were the chief cause of trouble.

Such matters more complicated to the amusement of the onlooker. I think that the Irish washerwoman's daughter, Maggie, was very well played by Miss Gwendolyn Brown.

The young man's Stock Co. will have an engagement at the Empire Theatre the first week in December, beginning on Monday the 1st. Some of their best features are "The American Abroad," "The Music Master," and "David Harcourt."

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1911.

Officials of the Laurier Government some time ago laid a charge against an employee of the Toronto navy having violated the arbitration law in violating a strike-breaker in the shipyards. The case came up the other day, when the prosecuting solicitor informed the court that he had withdrawn the charge. This is a precedent of an unsavory character. It indicates what the Borden Government means to do in the case of a strike-breaker who has no protection in the courts for the laboring man whose place may be taken by a strike-breaker imported from another country to do the work of the men. Call there a sense of explanation—and none has yet been offered—the protection in this direction given to the men of the shipyards, etc., who suffered a dead blow while the short-sighted Government holds the power to prevent legal proceedings.

Several western cities, Edmonton included, have offered free sites for armories. An offer of this kind is welcome, but it would be a foolish idea to manufacture armories. It is a bad bet not to admit the expenditure of public money in the erection of a large public building. The cost of the building and of course who will bear it are not known. The welfare of the force is the supreme consideration; it would be located without the nucleus in the same city. It is logical to assume that the Canadian government has enough money to maintain the Canadian army, etc., and that the Canadian people are not a people of unmeasurable who have to be deserved as to the cost of their defense forces.

Hon. Col. Sam Hughes is making提倡 the idea of getting along with capital as a means of getting men to serve in the militia. It is necessary. Let the pay of the militiamen be increased, so that our men in the ranks will be able to live decently. The trouble with two million—albeit other classes of public service—of the pay does not keep pace with the cost of living obtainable in other occupations. Men will not give up jobs at two or three dollars per day for the mid-summer months. They will not give up more than a week or ten at fifty cents per day. Nor should they be asked to do so. The middle-aged man with a family and more or less property has more right to expect to be paid in the country than the young man with one but himself to look after and with little worldly possessions to be plundered. The men are not afraid that such men will not or cannot serve in the ranks themselves; they should be willing to pay their proper share that the militia of the country be kept up to the present standard, both in numbers and efficiency.

Some of the Unionists, however, if London approves the abandonment of the naval construction program by the Borden Government. There is no naval armistice in this. The London Unionists, the ones who caused the expunging of the Sermon on the Mount from the authorized version of the Bible if the Borden Government should be successful, have no necessary authority. Besides it has always been the idea of the Unionists that Canadians should pay tribute to the Old Empire, the sum of contribution to the upkeep of the British fleet—instead of following their British instinct and starting to develop a navy of their own. The British landlords, not like the Lloyd George taxes. He would not be able to derive the proceeds derived from these were assessed upon the Overseas Dominions and the British dominions whose first and foremost duty would be to guard his possessions from invasion.

Party prejudice and his private purse alike enjoin the British Unionist to approve an un-British course of the Borden Government. The Unionists would make him warmly applaud a proposal to substitute for the naval construction program an annual cash donation to the maintenance of the British fleet.

THE SECRET OF REPUTATION:

This project put into actual practice by the Laurier Government are to be indefinitely postponed by the present administration. One of these is the railway to Hull and Bay. Contracts for the clearing of the right of way of this line and for the building in of supplies for the construction were let by the late Government; the work of getting the supplies was put in hand and was being rapidly completed when the new Government came into office. A few days after the surprising announcement was made that the contractors had been ordered from Ottawa to abandon work on the line, the Laurier Government, and that the completion of the project would be indefinitely postponed. The work is, however, at a standstill. The men employed in the work have been discharged, have come to the city of the Laurier administration, and the entire project is at this time, actually and absolutely, tied up. No reason for this has been advanced save the clause in the speech from the throne which says that the contracts have not yet made their guides which route to follow. As they have at their disposal all the survey reports and other sources of information, the administration has no reason to suppose that they propose to have further surveys made and further information collected before they will make their choice and allow the project to proceed. They will, however, take the road as far as the building of the road is concerned, and an application can only be taken into the country to have the project postponed for full year of all construction work on the road. And if the intention is to go on collecting information and to make further surveys, the project will be delayed another year or two will not be uttered away also before work is resumed where it left off six weeks ago. This is the only reason given for the delay of an hour if Mr. Borden was elected, he therefore tied up completely, and for how long no one knows.

The construction of the navy which Canada was to build for the protection of its coast and trade routes and for aiding in the defense of the Empire, if the contract required, has been put on the same side. Further, the construction of a number of cruisers had been called by the Laurier Government, but the contracts had not been let, and the elections were called. Very properly the Government delayed letting the contracts while the elections were pending. When the election was over, the contractors would not be let, but that some other means of assisting in the naval defense of Canada and of the Empire could be found. The contracts have not been let, and the Government under pressure admitted the other day that the project of building a Canadian fleet would be abandoned. But nothing has been said as to the place of this. Not a word was contained in the speech from the throne as to what the Government proposed to do anything in this direction. The only member who has been allowed to speak on the naval question deserved himself a hearty round of applause for his silence. The fact that the contractors had been having once again, the shrewdly abandoned project, and carefully abandoned words, which could be taken to mean that he had been supplied for the abandonment of the project, or for discharging our national duty of defending ourselves at our own cost or of taking care in the preservation of the Empire. The navy question is therefore shelved, along with the Hudson Bay railway project, indefinitely.

Hockey and Voyer, real estate brokers, formerly at 214 Jasper Avenue, now located in the Sugarman Block, when the new building is built, will be at 305 Ross Block, Jasper East.

MCBRIE HAS POLICY OF B.C. RAILWAY EXTENSION

Said from Vancouver to Fort George Said to From Part of Plan for the Opening up of Resources of the Interior—Provincial Conservatives
Urge Building of Prince River Road

New Westminster, Nov. 26.—With the selection of Revelstoke for next year's convention, the provincial Conservatives on Saturday closed their annual meeting. Before was the announcement by Premier Aes-tley that a railway extension to the Pacific province had been submitted to the legislature and the people of a comprehensive plan for a railway line to tap additional resources and bring more settlers to British Columbia's agricultural valleys. Later, in an interview, the premier said he was not in a position to tell what the Conservatives proposed plan, but declared that this province for the past year, while not attempting to build the Panama canal, would bring British Columbia into closer touch with the market.

Resolutions Adopted.

In addition to the construction of branches of existing lines in various parts of the province, many resolutions were adopted calling for the propagation of railway between Vancouver and Port George, which has been endorsed by the Canadian Pacific, and in addition to resolutions voicing confidence in the Borden and Laurier administrations, there were also efforts to ward imperial unity and the closer commercial union of the empire. Resolutions were adopted to support the British Columbia Dominion to Organization, to support the British Columbia people in their fight against the Peace river district and connecting Vancouver island with the main land,
a continuation of the mining industry,
the development of mineral resources,
protection of the forest industry
or the province by a retaliatory tariff and the protection of the water rights on the railway belt, a fair share of the trans-Canada traffic, and the appointment of a telephone commissioner, the building of a Canadian national highway, the institution of a national bank, the proposal of good roads convention.

BRITISH MADE GOODS INCONTOUR.

OF SOUTH AFRICA, INDIA, AMERICA Trade Fairs Off.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 26.—American trade has fallen off considerably in South Africa, India and America, but property expansion, according to the Right Rev. Hugh McCloskey, vicar apostolic of Eastern Cape Province, Port Elizabeth, and Durban, is still well under way. The demand for the deal of American-made goods is used in South Africa, but by passing the law that all foreign goods must be imported through the port of Durban
they are making decided headway, although it is said British-made goods are still most used.

Six Wreckers Blown Up.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 26.—Six Florida wreckers were blown up today while attempting to secure a hold on a bridge at a point where the steel spans had broken, which went ashore Nov. 22 off Alton Bay. This information was conveyed in a message from the Fathometer which was picked up by one of the wireless stations tonight.

RIGHTS OF CANADIANS INVOLVED IN DECREE

Canon Kitson, of Ottawa, Deems With No Terrible Penalty He Asks That Power of the Church of England Has Not Been Given to the Sovereignty of the Crown.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 23.—"Black of this decree lies the question at issue, and in this question are involved not only the rights of the church, ecclesiastical or financial, of Quebec, but the natural and personal rights of every citizen of the Dominion of Canada."

The question may as well before the reading and thinking public in this form: Has the church of Quebec, or any other power or jurisdiction, any right to interfere with the power of the Crown, to constitute itself the alternative judgment, and to summon
the parties to the matrimonial cause?
Should the parties to the marriage consider this question to be at all together a legal one? Notwithstanding the fact that history and especially Canadian archives, can be quoted as trustworthy witnesses to these.

These were the words of Rev.
Canon Henry Kitson, rector of Christ Church, Ottawa, in his answer to an application to the Supreme Court to be advised as to St. Richard W.
Scott on the mixed marriage case.
Canon Kitson was a former

Faithful to God, in St. Richard Kitson, who was asked to answer to the question of the Roman Catholic claims. Canon Kitson said that the Anglican Church did not consider itself as having any right, as it was the province of Quebec, where we demand that the church give up its peculiar requirements to marriage ordained by the Catholic Church, but did not solicit any such right by treaty, by the constitution of the country, and by the laws of our civil code."

The total revenue of the street railway department from car receipts for the financial year just ended was $1,000,000, which is $100,000 less than the previous year of last year. Total for October 31st, 1910 was $1,143,112.

appears to be a real Clark.

Clark will appear here October 1st,

when he will allow him to play this year.

CLARK—Fred Gravelle immediately met out the enveloped that he had offered him to control.

That day he rustled around and found a room paid to rent him.

He went to Edmund to secure his old home and his folks good-bye.

Edmund said he would do it.

Later, he announced that Chuck will be able to play for the Calgary team will be to supersede court of justice.

AROUND THE CITY

LOCALS

J. D. McArthur, the well known wine and spirit dealer, is registered at the Alberta Hotel.

The license commissioners have refused the application of the North Edmonton Club for a license to sell liquor. The commissioners considered that sufficient liquor is being sold at the club.

A supply of coal has been ordered by the city for the power plant from the Crow's Nest district. This will be kept in reserve until there appears to be little possibility of a coal shortage at the power plant.

A supply of coal has been ordered by the city for the power plant from the Crow's Nest district. This will be kept in reserve until there appears to be little possibility of a coal shortage at the power plant.

The deal was put through by Charles H. McPhee, Kilmarnock, on behalf of Mr. W. A. Kelly, the vendor.

The operators and miners of the Alberta Coal Company at Cardston have come to an agreement in the matter of the third member of the company which will be chosen by lot.

Now the miners' representative, J. O. Hannah, of Calgary, will represent the operators and cleaners. The miners expected that a meeting of the executive board will be held this week.

BUTLASS MISSION.

The well-known Missionary Evangelist, Rev. James M. Taylor, will receive his annual audience in the German Baptist church, corner of 10th and Namayo, on Saturday, Dec. 12, at 10 a.m.

He has recently toured the West Indies and South America. He will speak on the subject of the work in which 12,000 sought the Lord, also on his trip into the interior of South America where he found a native who had never seen a hammock and traveled in a canoe out in the wilds. The meeting will be preceded by an assembly of the Butlass Mission. No collection and everybody welcome.

PLANS FOR NEW CITY HALL.

Work on the preparation of plans and estimates for the new city hall is progressing rapidly. It is expected that A. M. Jeffers architect to the provincial government who for some time past has been engaged in the necessary work, will be able to make a report to the city council in the near future. The late Mayor Armstrong, who some time ago favored provision in the hall for a public library, has advised the city for purposes of public meetings, stated yesterday that since his visit to the master, he has changed his view of the master.

NATIONAL LAND CO. CHANGE.

Mr. Finch, formerly C.P.R. conductor of dining cars for a number of years, and well known by the traveling public, has the honor to introduce his new car, during meal hours, has taken over the management of the National Land Co., 372 First street, opposite Canadian store. The firm are holders of seven mining claims in Saskatchewan and have offices all over the country. They have sold over $6,000 lots this summer. The property which they are selling is situated in the best part of the city to be perfectly high, dry and level and does not require a ladder to get up on it. The main street, Saskatoon, 50 feet wide, runs direct through their property west. That Mr. Finch will make the name a success of real estate than he did on the C.P.R. all real sure as he was one of the most popular railroad men who ran into the stream.

STREET RAILWAY INSURANCE.
Insurance against liability for accidents on the street railway was the subject of the following report submitted by Dr. Kidder to the city commissioners yesterday:

The total revenue for the fiscal year just ended was $25,611 and the lowest rate quoted for this class of insurance was two and a half per cent. This is the highest whole life rate of protection the extent of $1400 in the case of any one claim, and $1000 in the case of any accident. The premium at the rate quoted would have amounted to $1,951.16. We have no record of any number of claims and legal expenses during the past year, some $7,743.55, which would amount to 1.8 per cent of the revenue mentioned, so that this shows a saving of $4,317.96, or 27 per cent.

"Our risk will undoubtedly increase from year to year, but I hope to me if we can get the cost to carry us ourselves for another year at least."

The commissioners were disposed to take the view that the insurance should be had for insurance, and that, if nothing else were done at the present time, the city should endeavor to meet this liability. The master was held over for further discussion.
